

Cottle Catford & Co.

Page 2

January 19, 200

It must again be stressed that no attempt has been made by either the Defendant in this matter, or the Defendant in the other matter whom he represents, to repay any of the amounts claimed by the Plaintiff or to engage in dialogue to settle their debts and, as such, as the matters have been listed, it is our intention to strenuously object to any further delay in the matter occurring because of any apparent matter that the Defendant's Attorney has to attend.

It is our opinion that, as the Defendant in one matter is an Attorney and that in the other the Defendant is married to an Attorney, they have access to arranging for other suitable representation if Mr. Smith's expertise is needed elsewhere.

Yours faithfully,

Cottle Catford & Co.

cc Messrs. Vernon Smith;
Mr. Leslie Haynes, Q.C.

Barbados Underground blog
<https://barbadosunderground.wordpress.com/>